Iture, but they will probably be announced tomorrow. About eight foremen will be appointed, in accordance with the recommendations of the examining board. Two foremanships will not be filled, however, at present—those of the ordnance and steam engineering shops. The secretary yesterday directed a re-examination to be held for these positions, and selected an examining board. The papers were not signed. examining board. The papers were not signed and, in the absence of both Secretary and act ing Secretary, they have not yet been issued. When the original examinations were held it was the intention of the Secretary to combine the ordnance and steam engineering shops under one foreman, and the examinations were under one foreman, and the examinations were held with this view. The result, however, showed that a number of candidates were entirely competent to fill either position separately, but none to fill both. Consequently the Secretary decided not to combine the two shops, but to provide a foreman for each, and the re-examination for these positions will be held as soon as possible.

WHO WILL BE APPOINTED. It is understood that C. Pennington will be appointed foreman of the rolling mill: J. A. Cole, of the chain shop; W. Yound, of the galley shop; J. McK. Chase, of the patternmakers; W. S. Cowen, of the sailmakers, and W. J. Cochran, of moulders.

SMUGGLE GOODS INTO THE UNITED STATES. The Treasury department is in receipt of a letter from Mr. C. G. Whitlock, in which he says he has reliable information that twenty officers attached to the U. S. S. Juniata, which on that day paid their respects to the Presihas just returned to New York from a cruise in Chinese waters, have concealed on that vessel a large quantity of dutiable goods, including silks, rugs, fans, vases, porceiain and ivory ware, Chinese and Japanese curios, &c., which they intend to smuggle into the United States. The collector of customs has been instructed to investigate the matter, and to report his action. investigate the matter, and to report his action. He is instructed to send an inspector and assistants to the vessel and to request permission from the commanding officer to institute a thorough search. In case permission is obtained the customs officers are to take possession of all smuggled goods which may be found and turn them over to the collector for action in accordance with the law and the regulations. The Secretary of the Treasury has also been notified of the case, with a request for instructions.

THE PRESIDENT'S FORMER PASTOR.-The First Presbyterian church of Germantown, Pa., has extended a call to the Rev. Charles Wood, of Albany. THE HOUSE COMMITTEES. Gossip at the Capitol To-day.

UNDER THE NEW DEAL.

All gossip about the construction of the House committees to-day is based upon the assumption that the Morrison code of rules will be adopted. Under this code the importance of many of the committees would be greatly increased and many that were formerly shunned by ambitious members will be sought after. The naval committee, to be placed at the head of which last Congress Mr. S. S. Cox considered a slight, will, it given the naval appropriation bill, become one of the most important committees. There will be quite a scramble for its chairmanship. Ballentine, Wise, Blount, McAdoo and Hewett are spoken of in connection with this chairmanship. McAdoo and Wise were on it last year, Wise ranking next the chairman and McAdoo second.
Hewitt, it is generally believed, will be the man selected. He is now one of the best workers on the ways and means committee but his ers on the ways and means committee, but his name stands low on the list, and it is thought head of the naval affairs committee if its imortance were augmented, as is contemplated, He has made a study of naval architecture and now to be appointed will have the duty of starting the reconstruction of the navy, and will handle the appropriation of millions of dollars for that purpose. There is some talk of a change in the head of the foreign affairs committee, and Perry Bel-Burnes had charge of the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill last Congress.

The committees that there is likely to be most trouble about are the two financial committees—the coinage, weights and measures and the banking and currency. Missouri had both the chairmanships last Congress, Buckner eing at the head of the latter and Bland at the head of the other. Bland expects to hold his committee, but Buckner was not returned. The Missourians still want to control these two committees, as the silver question must be referred to one or the other of them, and Mr. W.

Representative Townshend, of Illinois, it is the military committee, which was left vacant Mr. Spriggs, of New York, is among those spoken of for the chairmanship of the District committee, and Daniel, of Virginia, who will

There are whole streets of new houses, built up especially in the northwest and northeast secthem as in other localities, and it is the part of wisdom to accommodate them. Intelligent and wealthy citizens from all the states are seeking for homes in this city, and this will probably be the case for years to come. Our beautifully im-proved streets is one of the principal attractions which draw them. Business enterprises are also increasing rapidly, and are crowded into

They are from eight to eleven o'clock, and are purely informal. THE COUNCIL OF LABOR. Arbitration Preferred to Strikes-Representative Cole's Address—Important Resolutions Adopted.

The Federation of Labor Unions, at their ses sion yesterday afternoon, closed the consideration of the eight hour question by the adoption of a resolution which urged the unions throughout the country to put into practical operation the eight hour day, if they felt strong enough to bring such a result about. The unions are asked to report March 1st, 1886, what efforts have been made to establish the eight hour day, and those unions which decide by that time not to enforce it, by reason of their belief that they would not succeed, are requested by the legislative committee to aid those unions that decide to enforce it. Reports were made by the delegates on the subject of strikes and arbitration, and all reported that the bodies which they represented always favored arbitration, and were opposed to beginning a strike unless absolutely compelled to. The Federation then adjourned until to-day.

During the noon recess Representative Wm. H. Cole, of Maryland, addressed the delegates on the questions of interest to the laboring classes and the legislation that could be addressed to be classes and the legislation that ought to be considered by the national Congress. Upon the conclusion of his remarks a vote of thanks was tendered to him.

PROCEEDINGS TO-DAY. The Federation met this morning at 9 o'clock, but upon representation that the committees had been unable to give the time to the matters referred to them that was necessary, it was decided to take a recess until 11 o'clock. When the session was resumed Mr. Edmonston read a letter from Mr. Fred. W. Steins, of the Milwaukee Trades Assembly, explaining that he had been prevented from attending the Federation on account of some local trade troubles in that city. THE RESOLUTIONS-ABUSE OF THE REMEDY OF

The committee on resolutions, through Mr. Emrich, reported a series, which set forth that the remedy of boycott has been grossly abused so as to endanger the usefulness of this legitimate and powerful weapon in the hands of the working people to protect their rights and interests; that some organizations resort to it for trivial causes, and that there were instances when rival factions of workingmen had placed resolution recites that the Federation discountenances such proceedings and deprecate it on account of the odium cast upon the working classes and the injury to their interests. The committee further reported that the International Cigar Makers' union had a lubel to coolie, contract and prison labor, and that the Federation endorse this label and recommend to the workingmen and their friends to smoke no cigars except those bearing this label. Mr. Emrich, who reported the resolution, said that a union of the Progressive and International Cigar Makers' union was probable in the near future, and that in such a case their labels would be the same. Mr. Kirchner thought that it was important to recognize the working women, who had also sufféred under the contract system, and the suffered under the contract system, and the latter resolution contained the words, "The working people of the United States," and for this reason he thought that the latter resolution was the best. He suggested as a further amendment the words "and even the petty economy of towel washing in the government departments." Objection was made to this amendment on the ground that the Federation was not legislating for any particular interest, but for the general welfare of the laboring classes.

It was stated that the resolution did not refer a boycott which had only a local effect. The boy Hoopes, however, was more daring and took the lead. He had hardly gone twenty feet when the ice gave way and he broke through. He called for help and young Knox rushed out to rescue him. Both were soon struggling for life, and those on shore became frightened and ran away, calling loudly for help. The boys rushed to the homes of their victims and informed their mothers. They ran to the dam moaning and weeping and were with difficulty prevented from jumping into the water. A boat was quickly procured and a search was made for the bodies. They were recovered an hour later. An attempt was made to resusquate the boys but without avail.
